Presenter Information

Joe Lucas

MBA, CI, CT, NAD V, SC:L

Joe has been interpreting professionally for 11 years. He has his bachelor's degree from Western Maryland College (now McDaniel College) in Sociology and Deaf Studies and his MBA from The University of Phoenix. In Joe's tenure, he has been an agency owner, a supervisor, a call center manager, an instructor, a mentor, a presenter, and a freelance interpreter. All of these experiences have given Joe a 360 degree view of the profession and the work that ASL/English Interpreters do. Joe began presenting on various topics related to interpreting in 2006 and loves being able to travel and meet people all over the country. Joe is a freelance interpreter in Chicago and currently specializes in platform work with heavy sign to voice needs, mental health, and legal.

Join us for a day packed with learning and interpreting growth!
