

IRID proudly presents:
“NIC Nuggets: What you need to know about the National Interpreter Certification test”

Presented by: Ben Hall and Linda Ross

Saturday, February 23, 2008
John A. Logan College 700 Logan College Rd. Carterville, Illinois 62918
8am-12pm, Room: D265 (<http://www.jalc.edu/Leirid/map.html>)

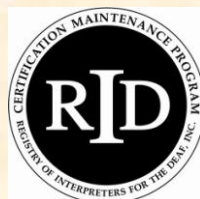

This session will provide a look at the new National Interpreter Certification from the perspectives of two individuals who have “been there, done that”: one who was a Content Expert for the test development, and one who was involved with the National Council on Interpreting, the joint NAD/RID committee that worked on developing the test, and has passed the interview and performance portion.

Participants will be able to: describe the certification process, outline steps to prepare for the performance/interview test, identify resources to prepare for the performance/interview test, describe the testing environment of the performance/interview tests.

Fees: IRID Members $35.00, Non Members $45.00, add $7.50 for lunch. CEUs: .4 Professional Studies

JOIN us for this exciting workshop and STAY for the IRID Board Meeting! Boxed lunch available for $7.50.

Workshop Date: Saturday, February 23, 2008. *No refunds after Feb. 16. *****
